VILLA SANDI, CULTURAL HERITAGE OF THE TREVISAN LAND

Villa Sandi is a successful example of that special bond that exists between art and agriculture that has characterized the Venetian scenery in the past. It is located between the DOCG area of Prosecco of Valdobbiadene and the DOC area of the Montello and Colli Asolani wines. The Villa is a Palladian-style masterpiece dating back to 1622.

TUSCANY

The commercial farm Col di Lamo extends up to eight hectares in the territory of Montalcino.

The property owner, Giovanna Neri, graduated in Law, got her passion for wine from her father and she is actually one of the most successful and valued winemakers.

One of the most fascinating aspects of Col di Lamo wines is the ability of Giovanna to spread love and respect her products in the same way as a woman, a mother, loves her son.

“Only in few places in the world, like here at the Sabbiosa, vines with their original pre-phyllloxera roots have been saved, enabling us to taste the pure and ancient flavour of European grapes.”

All our vineyards are organic certified, planted in sandy soil and pre-phyllloxera. The oldest vines are goblet or spur-trained, while a percentage of the younger vines are trained along trellises.

Extré

Extré is a collection of 13 privately owned Cuvées, 13 top wines from Champagne's best areas some of which are limited and numbered editions.

They are the maximum expression of the wine making art, representing a sensory journey which ranges across a wide range of emotions from the minerality of varietal Chardonnay, with its fantastic Blanc de Blancs, to the austerity of a 100% Pinot Noir without neglecting more unusual Cuvées, the most fascinating Meunier, the special single harvest wines passing through romantic Rosé d'Assemblage to a rare and vigorous Rosé de Saignée.

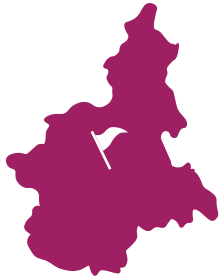

13 collectors' editions, numbered like a fine encyclopaedia, encompassing the peculiarities of each individual Champagne, listing terroir, wine making method, serving temperature, visual, bouquet and palate tasting notes, food pairings but above all the sensations they generate on each sip, the magical atmospheres which they manage to evoke and the special occasions they contribute to celebrating.

From ancient recipes with more than two centuries of history, we arrive at a product that recalls "the ancient" revived in a modern key.

The constant botanical research, the re-enactment of officinal plants, the thirty-year experience of the Aromatiere, gained in a prestigious company that has been a leader in the sector of extracts and infusions since 1888, have produced the Reale, firmly anchored in the past but strongly inspired by the innovation.

“It is not necessary to be crazy to distill a great liquor, but it helps immensely”. A 14th-century document already mentioned the Plunhof at Siusi allo Sciliar (Seis am Schlern). In the past, the company was part of the land properties of the Hauenstein Castle and was therefore owned by no less than poet Oswald von Wolkenstein. Yet not even his vivid fantasy might have imagined that world-class and internationally famous fine spirits and fruit liquours would be born here, 1000 metres above sea level.
